

Portrait head "Augustus", cast

€148.00

Product no.: IN-015913

This is how ambivalently he propagated himself: with a pointed, slightly twisted, juvenile face, narrow-lipped mouth, vigorous forehead and idealised waves, and with his noble composure derived from Etruscan portraiture - detached from the political daily fuss and belonging to the Athenian-inspired images of the gods.

Original: Roman-Germanic Museum Cologne. From around the time of Christ's birth.

Polymer ars mundi museum replica cast by hand, height with pedestal 11 cm.
