

Andy Warhol: Porcelain plate "Marilyn" (purple)

€110.00

Product no.: IN-901920

This porcelain plate features one of the most famous works by the "Pope of Pop Art": Marilyn Monroe (1967). Andy Warhol's series of screenprints of Marilyn Monroe followed her death in August 1962. All his pictures and screenprints are based on the same source image of a publicity photograph of Marilyn Monroe for her 1953 film Niagara. For Warhol, Marilyn embodied beauty and eternal fame in American culture.

Plate made of fine porcelain with motif "Marilyn" (purple) by Andy Warhol. Diameter 21 cm, with Andy Warhol's signature on the back. Supplied in a red/brown Andy Warhol gift box. ©/®/TM The Andy Warhol Foundation for the Visual Arts, Inc.
