Gustav Klimt's pictures are among the most expensive works of art and are internationally extremely popular. His style is unmistakable. In addition to the paintings of his "golden period", especially the impressive landscape paintings with which the Viennese master Gustav Klimt marked the transition to modern painting. Painted in nature, without preliminary sketches, the atmospheric, mostly square landscape paintings were tranquillity and meditation for Gustav Klimt. The focus of his large-format garden landscapes is the spectacle of nature as an elementary symbol of life.
