Nature made of glass from Maleras: "Our forests have captured the hearts and minds of people since time immemorial," says Swedish glass artist Mats Jonasson. This subtly magical connection to nature is evident in each of Jonasson's pieces, which he first moulds in plaster. Next, he creates a hollow iron mould into which he pours high-quality crystal glass. Finally, he sandblasts and polishes the blank in an elaborate process. The Maleras Glassworks is testimony to Jonasson's commitment to keeping design and production in the Swedish glassblowing village permanently - despite many counter-offers. Today, his glass art is world-famous among collectors.

Sculpture "Owl": Silent and alert with all its senses, the owl waits for the right moment to hunt. The owl is at home in Sweden's coniferous forests and has been immortalised here as a masterpiece of glass art. Large version in black. Size 23.5 x 15.5 x 16.5 cm (h/w/d). Weight approx. 2.1 kg.
