

Sculpture "Fighting Athletes", reduction in cast iron

€1,380.00

Product no.: IN-032124

The agon, the sporting competition, was a passion for the Greeks. The wrestlers performed naked; after all, the human body was considered the most perfect and divine creation. Therefore, the artist strove to depict the bodies as perfect as possible. They closely observed the interplay of muscles of the fighters from all sides.

Original: Museo degli Uffizi, Florence, Greek-Hellenistic, 3rd century BC, marble.

Polymer ars mundi museum replica cast by hand. Reduction, height 44 cm. Weight 19 kg.
