€240.00

Product no.: IN-397418

This major work by the most important European sculptor of his time is considered a symbol of human reason and creative power. "He is dreaming," Rodin says of his masterpiece. "The fertile thought slowly develops in his brain. Suddenly he is no longer a dreamer; he is a creator."

Just a quarter of a century after its creation, "The Thinker" became a French national monument: the monumental sculpture was donated to the city of Paris by public subscription and was ceremoniously unveiled in 1906 in front of the memorial to the Grand Nation, the Panthéon in Paris. The inscription of the pedestal reads "LE PENSEUR DE RODIN OFFERT". A bronze cast replica stands in the garden of Rodin's last Paris domicile, today's Musée Rodin. Original: Musée Rodin, Paris. Made in 1880, signed in the casting.

Polymer ars mundi museum replica, cast by hand. With bronzed surface. Reduction. Height 26 cm.
