

Ushabti

€268.00

Product no.: IN-001677

Among the most important grave goods were the so-called Ushabtis. According to the Book of the Dead, these small figures were supposed to serve for the deceased by calling upon to do manual labor in the afterlife. For this purpose, they hold their tools in crossed hands, mostly an hoe and a chisel, while carrying a basket that is hanging over their shoulder.

Original: British Museum, London. Egypt, Late Period, 26th Dynasty, c. 600 BC.

Blue faience, height with marble base 20 cm.

Product link: <https://www.arsmundi.de/en/ushabti-001677/>