Bruno Bruni:
Sculpture "Amore", bronze brown version

€2,980.00

Product no.: IN-895995

Bruno Bruni's art is the art of a consistent aesthete. It was like that from the very beginning and it remained like that even when, at the time of his artistic beginnings, the art market mainly expected abstraction and was highly sceptical of any representationalism in art. The tenacity with which Bruni defended his concept of the beauty of the work of art in word and work is thoroughly admirable. Bruno remained true to himself, whether for his drawings, lithography or sculptural work. Already at an early stage, there were many admirers of his work. They always pointed out that Bruni's achievement was not refocusing beauty in art.

Bruno Bruni never shied away from putting great emotions into the work. This is also the case with "Amore": his couple in an intimate embrace shows two lovers, and, if you will love itself in its dual form of deep emotional affection and sensual desire.
