

Auguste Rodin: Sculpture "The Age of Bronze" (1876), large version in bonded bronze

€1,480.00

Product no.: IN-194229

"The Age of Bronze" - the original title was "The Defeated" - was Rodin's first bronze sculpture. The decisive influences of his trip to Italy, during which he encountered works by Michelangelo and Donatello, are clearly evident. At the Salon of Paris and Brussels in 1877, this sculpture caused a scandal because of its distinct realism.

Original: Bronze, Musée Rodin, Paris / Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York. Created in 1876.

ars mundi museum replica version, hand-cast in polymer cast with bronzed surface. Height 63 cm. Weight approx. 14 kg.

Product link: <https://www.arsmundi.de/en/auguste-rodin-sculpture-the-age-of-bronze-1876-large-version-in-bonded-bronze-194229/>