

Pablo Picasso: Picture "Head of a Woman Reading", framed

€480.00

Product no.: IN-919335.R1

In art history, the motif of the reading woman has a strong precedent. There are countless paintings in which a noble lady or bourgeois woman coyly lowers her eyes into a prayer book as a sign of her deep piety. But not in Picasso's work: his reading woman is a modern, self-confident woman who - apparently also aware of her erotic charisma - devotes herself to her reading in a highly concentrated manner. © Pablo Picasso - by SIAE 1999. Maestri Della Pittura.
