

Olaf Teichmann: Sculpture "Kassandra", bronze

€2,880.00

Product no.: IN-774960

Cassandra received the gift of foresight from Apollo. But she refused him. Apollo then cursed the gift of providence. No one was to believe her predictions anymore. And so Troy also perished. The sculptor Olaf Teichmann sets up a comparatively simple monument to this historical abundance and concentrates on the human-feminine aspect of the figure. She shields her eyes as if denying her gift. A woman who, despite all fate, knows who she is and what she can do.

Sculpture cast in fine bronze using the Lost-Wax-Process, patinated by hand. Limited world edition 199 copies, numbered and signed. Size 28.5 x 19 x 16 cm. Weight 2.6 kg.
