

Christiane Wendt: Necklace "Aesculapius", 925 sterling silver bicolour

€290.00

Product no.: IN-689953

Asclepius was a master of medicine, surgery and herbology and was even able to raise the dead. He was usually depicted with a rod that was entwined with an adder. This Asclepius rod became a symbol of healing and, as a healing amulet, promotes health and long life. This designer piece by jewellery artist Christiane Wendt is exclusively available at ars mundi.

Pendant in size 1 x 3 cm, set with a brilliant-cut diamond, on a 45 cm long foxtail chain. Bicolour edition in gold-plated 925 sterling silver.
