Friedensreich Hundertwasser: Set of 6 mugs "Magic Mugs", porcelain

€340.00

Product no.: IN-876336

A "Magic Mug" for your friends: "Magic Mugs" are a lovely gift for art connoisseurs and porcelain collectors. The "Magic Mugs" depict the world of Hundertwasser's painting and architecture. Each mug possesses and tells its own story and provides plenty of interesting topics of conversation for the get-together over a "Magic Mug" coffee.

The editions data at a glance:
Factory number: PM II Magic Mugs; Made in the Königlich privilegierten Porzellanmanufaktur Tettau after well-known Hundertwasser motifs; twice fired in 16 colours at 1,200° Celsius; mug 0.25 litre each, dishwasher safe.

Magic Mug "Rogner-Bad Blumau": On the roofs of the hillside forest, Hundertwasser gave back to nature what was taken from it when the house was built: "It's everything there for being happy on earth... We are rich. We live in paradise".
Magic Mug "Grass for those who cry": City dwellers weep for the lost paradise. But Hundertwasser shows: "Paradises an only be made with our own hands, with our own creativity in harmony with the free creativity of nature."
Magic Mug "Window's homesickness": For Hundertwasser, houses were not made of walls but windows. He found the levelling of windows unbearable: "Windows in rank and file are sad, windows should be able to dance."
Magic Mug "Yellow last will": According to Hundertwasser, architecture should elevate people, not degrade them. A golden onion tower on their own house elevates the inhabitant to the status of a king.
"La troisième peau" represents a Hundertwasser architectural dream: a house is supposed to be a third skin for its inhabitants. A skin that is constantly changing and growing organically, just like the body's skin.
Magic Mug "ArtHouseVienna" shows Hundertwasser's facades, which are not flat and smooth but uneven and interspersed with irregular mosaics. Black and white, irregular chequerboard patterns indicate that a structure is being broken up: Nature and humanity return to architecture.
