

Jan M. Petersen: Writing object "Rich but stupid 1" (2019) (Unique piece)

€1,400.00

Product no.: IN-891168

The artist Jan M. Petersen, who is equally devoted to art history and humorously scrutinises it without false respect, is a bit of a celebrity in the gallery scene. His handcart, which he pushes through the exhibition halls of various art fairs as a regular guest, contains a fund of bizarre artistic wisdom. On handy wooden blocks, he puts his simultaneously cheeky and wise slogans, all of which tell of his passion for art.

His latest objects made of shiny copper seem glamorous at first but with their lettering composed of Swarovski stones, they take their usual humorous jabs at the vanity and need for recognition of the high-gloss art world.

Object made of copper, electroplated gold, Swarovski stones, 2019. signed. Size 29 x 21 x 5 cm.

Product link: <https://www.arsmundi.de/en/jan-m-petersen-writing-object-rich-but-stupid-1-2019-unique-piece-891168/>