Tutankhamun

€2,980.00

Product no.: IN-146840

The entire world was on the edge of its seat when Howard Carter finally announced the discovery of Tutankhamun's intact tomb on 4 November 1922. And the result was overwhelming: over 5,000 individual finds, magnificent burial objects made of pure gold, but above all the legendary death mask of the young pharaoh were the reward for the greatest efforts. The mask, which is made of pure gold, was worn by Tutankhamun's mummy, who was completely covered with linen bandages over his head and shoulders. Take the aura of Egypt home with a high-quality, true-to-detail replica of the mask.
Original: Egyptian Museum, Cairo, Treasure of Tutankhamun. New Kingdom, 18th Dynasty, around 1335 BC.

Polymer ars mundi museum replica cast by hand; painted and gilded by hand. Size 54 x 41 x 41 cm (h/w/d). Weight 11 kg. Completely three-dimensionally worked.
