

Günther Stimpfl: Sculpture "Two Heads", artificial marble

€880.00

Product no.: IN-265277

The artist, who was born in 1945 in Eben, Austria, has travelled from New York to South America and Asia. Before working as a freelance sculptor, he restored the large free sculptures in Vienna's Belvedere and Schönbrunn palaces. Through his exhibitions of sculptures, etchings, pastels and drawings in Hamburg, Frankfurt, Munich, Bologna, Milan, Paris, Geneva and Vienna, he has found many friends of his work throughout Europe.

His "double-headed" sculpture, whose smooth, rounded surface tempts the viewer to touch it, is reminiscent of the Roman god Janus, who was originally regarded as the guardian of the door. That is why he is depicted with a double face looking inwards and outwards. He became the god of the beginning and the end. The first month of the year, January is named after him. Total height 29 cm; length 15 cm, width 13 cm. Limited, numbered and signed. Edition in white, polymer-bound artificial marble. Edition of 300 copies.
