

Caspar David Friedrich: Picture "The Stages of Life" (1835), framed

€440.00

Product no.: IN-687374.R1

The painting "The Stages of Life" from 1835 is a tender allegory of life and family: a family scene including Friedrich, his wife and his two children on a jetty by the Baltic Sea coast. The artist with grey hair approaches the scene from the front and gazes out to sea. There are 5 ships on the water, one for each of the persons depicted: There are 2 small sloops on the shore, symbolising the children. The most beautiful ship in the middle symbolises the woman of the house. Further out there are the ships representing the artist himself, already fading on the horizon in the evening glow.

Original: Oil on canvas, Museum der Bildenden Künste, Leipzig.

High-quality reproduction using the Fine Art Giclée process transferred onto 100% cotton artist's canvas and mounted on a wooden stretcher frame. The canvas structure can be felt and seen. Relief-like brush structures are applied true to the original by hand. The elegant solid wood model frame rounds off the appearance perfectly. Limited edition 499 copies. Stretcher frame size 40 x 51 cm (h/w). Framed with a golden solid wood classic framing. Size 49 x 59 cm (h/w).
