

Andreas Mussner: Wooden sculpture "Madonna of the Rose"

€480.00

Product no.: IN-417625

The artist carefully selects the appropriate wood for each of his objects, carves it in superior quality and then paints it by hand with great attention to detail. The rose is an ancient symbol of beauty, pain and love. The Madonna of the Rose is one of the most popular representations of the Dolomite Valley and wears a red rose in her hair. The 1.60 m high monumental version of this Madonna is erected in the Rose Garden near Merano. Hand-carved sycamore maple, elaborately painted and partly gilded. Height 30 cm.
