€3,800.00

Product no.: IN-880167

The Belgian sculptor Guido Deleu (born in 1932) studied for three years at the Academy of Arts in Roeselare, Belgium and was also trained by his teacher Isidoor Goddeeris in the famous quarries of Carrara/Italy in the working of marble.

His work "The Visitor" is both a work of art and an art commentary. The "Visitor" stands in the room - in the presented bronze edition it can also be the garden - with an interested gaze and observes the world that is presented to him there. In this way, he mirrors the art viewer and shows him a similar thing: the interested gaze, the attentive eye, the precision of looking, which he presents as an art object but also demands from the viewer at the same moment.

"The Visitor" was commissioned for a cultural centre in Flanders, Belgium, where a life-size version of the sculpture has been standing since 1996.

Edition in bronze, made using the Lost-Wax-Process, patinated. Size 75 x 28 x 21 cm (h/w/d). Weight 14 kg. Suitable for outdoor use.
