Fused with Nature - Edvard Munch's Woman with Poppies

In the last three decades of his life, Edvard Munch (1863-1944) increasingly focused on nature on his property in Ekely near Oslo. There, he also created the "Woman with Poppies". She seems to merge with the surroundings and can thereby be considered a symbol of a flower itself due to her posture resembling a flower stem and the opulent hat. Strong colours and delicate as well as striking brushstrokes create an overall composition through which the ageing artist expressed his appreciation of the creative power of life and the vitality of nature.

Original: 1918/19, oil on canvas, Munch Museum, Oslo.

Reproduced using the Fine Art Giclée process directly onto artist's canvas and mounted on a stretcher frame for a brilliant, authentic reproduction. Limited edition 499 copies, with certificate. Framed in a handmade real wood frame. Size approx. 78 x 61 cm (h/w).
