€128.00

Product no.: IN-415342

Bruno Bruni's magnificent array of blossoms: Flora is an important subject in the work of the Italian artist Bruno Bruni. "Flowers are natural phenomena that I admire!" he once said. He made various flowers into motifs for his extensive oeuvre of paintings, lithographs and sculptures, including orchids, lilies, roses and, above all, the amaryllis, which he repeatedly reinterpreted.

Bruno Bruni depicts the flowers in his typical and unique visual idiom for this silk scarf. Although he does not present them true to reality, he masterfully captures their most significant contours with fine lines and allows the flower to lose none of its natural beauty. The surface of the silk cloth makes the lush blooms glow in a unique way.

Serigraph in 18 colours, transferred and rolled hem by hand onto pure silk crêpe satin. Size 100 x 100 cm. Comes in an elegant gift box.
