The horse in all its elegance and vitality, became a symbol of life, reality and freedom for Marc. It symbolises the power of culture; it is the horse that makes agriculture and mobility possible for humans. But nature was already there before the human being: free, untouched and powerful.

Sculptor's model after the original in the Städtische Galerie im Lenbachhaus, Munich (Catalogue raisonné Lankheit 906). A picture of tenderness, dynamism and perfect harmony is offered by Franz Marc's powerfully modelled pair of horses - a symbol of modern sculpture.

Edition in polymer bonded bronze, cast and patinated by hand. Size 23 x 22 cm (w/h).
