Product no.: IN-903393

Sparrows, especially the house sparrow, is the best-known of the three species found in Germany. They are synanthropic animals and live near human settlements - preferably in villages with agriculture, where they find plenty of food. But populations are declining significantly. Modern agriculture and the increasing sealing of the landscape are causing a difficult life for them. In 2002, the former common bird was even declared "Bird of the Year" by the German Nature and Biodiversity Conservation Union (NABU).

Bronze sculptures cast using the Lost-Wax-Process, chiselled and patinated by hand. Can be fastened using the threaded pin supplied.
