

Andora + Della: Sculpture "Lady Justice" (2002), bronze

€3,280.00

Product no.: IN-370173

Her sculpture "Lady Justice" is a very personal visualisation of the theme of justice and righteousness. The representation with scales and a blindfold, which adorns numerous courtrooms, town halls and residences, also dates from this time. She decides "without regard to the status". The two artists ironise the common representations and inspire all kinds of intellectual games. Thus "Lady Justice" wears a sticking plaster over her eyes - maybe a reaction to the violation of law and order all over the world. With the symmetrically spread weight arms, her figure itself is reminiscent of a scale. She holds two hearts in her hands, one of which is horned: Being right is not enough. You also have to win your case... Lady Justice's body consists of two-thirds of a paragraph sign: Justice is based on the law!

Bronze sculpture. Limited world edition 199 copies - 29 of which are roman numbered. Cast by hand using the Lost-Wax-Process. Hand-painted, finely polished, numbered, signed and hallmarked with the foundry stamp. Size 41.5 x 44.5 x 10 cm. Weight 6 kg. Arabic numbered version: hand-painted bronze sculpture according to the artists' specifications. Limited world edition of 170 copies (from 1/170 to 170/170).

Product link: <https://www.arsmundi.de/en/andora-della-sculpture-lady-justice-2002-bronze-370173/>