

Paul Wunderlich: Picture "In the Campagna", unframed

€298.00

Product no.: IN-293713

Wunderlich's Goethe portrait is an ingenious triad: homage to the great poet, reverence for the painter Tischbein, who painted Goethe's famous portrait in the Campagna in Rome in 1786-87, and last but not least, a "typical Wunderlich" with Mannerist stylistic elements. The cooling towers of a power station appear in the background: signs of Goethe's topicality, his work as an "energy power station" of culture - but also signs that the environment has changed.

Original colour lithograph in 4 colours on Zerkall handmade paper. Limited edition of 1,200 copies, numbered and signed by hand. Catalogue raisonné no. 808. Unframed. Sheet size 51.2 x 68.5 cm.
